Rev. Danny Jones Sermon

April 19, 2020

Is this Coronavirus a sign of the End of the World? And more!

2 Thessalonians 2:1-12

Rev. Danny Jones: We do hope that it is well with your soul. I know that our 'normal' has been mixed up for the last several weeks. It's okay for our 'normal' to be mixed up as long as your soul is not mixed up. So, we are hoping that it is well with your soul this morning.

If you have your bibles, please open to 2 Thessalonians, Chapter 2. This week I thought that instead of continuing our Revelations study, we would study a Revelation-related topic. It's a question that I have been asked several times during the past month, and the question is simply this: Is this coronavirus a sign of the end of the world?

I am going to go ahead and warn you that this sermon may be a little longer than normal because this is one of those that continues to get bigger the more I study it. Nevertheless, under the current situation here, if it gets too long I guess you can always turn it off at home – but we hope you won't. We hope that you will stick with us until the end.

I think that the best place to answer this question about the coronavirus being a sign of the end of the world would be to go to 2 Thessalonians, Chapter 2. Beginning in verse 1 it says:

Concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our gathering together to Him, [talking about the rapture of Christians] we ask you not to be soon shaken in mind or troubled, either by spirit or by word or by letter, as if from us, as though the day of Christ had come. Let no one deceive you by any means, for that day will not come unless the falling away comes first and the man of sin is revealed, the son of perdition, who opposes and exalts himself above all that is called God or that is worshipped, so that he sits as God in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God.

Do you not remember that when I was still with you, [this is referring to 1 Thessalonians] I told you these things? And now you know what is restraining, that He may be revealed in his own time. For the mystery of lawlessness [and I think the King James says the ‘mystery of iniquity] is already at work;

If you underline things, in your bible, underline that phrase because that is what we are going to work this morning.

For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work; only He who now restrains will do so until He is taken out of the way, and then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord will consume with the breath of His mouth and destroy with the brightness of His coming. The coming of the lawless one is according to the working of Satan, with all power, signs, and lying wonders, and with all unrighteous deception among those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this reason, God will send them strong delusion, that they should believe the lie; that they all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

What the apostle Paul here is referring to is a question about the end times. Apparently, some teachers were coming to the church at Thessalonica and spreading rumors that Paul had written a letter to somebody saying that the day of the Lord had already come, and they missed it. Needless to say, they were in a panic. So, Paul wrote to them in verse 3 and assured these believers that the ‘day of the Lord’, the second coming of Christ, and judgement day had not yet happened.

Paul says that Christ will not return until a couple of things happen. First of all, in verse 3, it says that there is this apostasy-the ‘falling away’ as you see there. The gospel will be preached throughout the nations as Jesus has said to people around the world, and many will receive this Gospel. But then following the reception of the Gospel, there will be a falling away. People will begin to reject the Gospel of salvation through Jesus Christ.

Once the people reject the truth, the world will be wide open for the big lie – the great deception of the one called the anti-Christ.

We see him there in verse 3, and that is the second thing that would happen. On the last days, this ‘man of sin’, the ‘son of perdition’ (verse 8 calls him the ‘lawless one’) will appear. This is a sign that the apostle John calls the anti-Christ.

According to verses 9 and 10, this anti-Christ will be empowered by Satan. He will be the master of deceit. He will perform lying signs and wonders. Verse 4 tells us that this anti-Christ will oppose God. Of course, the Greek word for ‘oppose’ is ‘anti’. So, he will be anti-God, anti-Christ, and he will exalt himself above God. He will be able to deceive people by, “Sitting as God in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God.”

Paul received this insight into anti-Christ by meditating on the words of Jesus who warned us before he went to the cross in Matthew 24 that in the last days before his second coming that false teachers would arise, and people would begin denying that Jesus is the Messiah. Instead, they would tell the world that they are the Christ and that they are the anointed one, and that they are the one sent from heaven. They will say that they are the one with all the answers to man’s problems.

In Matthew 24, Jesus says that false Christ and false prophets will rise and show great signs and wonders, and they will deceive even the elect. So even devout believers, if we are not careful to stick close to the word of God, can be easily deceived.

Mathew 24 verse 15, Jesus refers us to an earlier prophet, the prophet Daniel. He tells us that when it comes to the prophet Daniel, we need to read and understand. Daniel gave us a description under the spirit of God of this final world superpower and this final world ruler who will appear at the end of the age. You don't have to turn there; you can research it a little later. But I will zip through Daniel very quickly here.

In Daniel, Chapter 2, the Lord gives him the big picture over history. He says that in the history of the world and the history of humanity, there will be five great superpowers in history that will rule over the known world at the time. The first is pictured as the golden empire; this would be the Babylonian Empire. The second is the silver empire; this is the Persians. The third is the bronze empire; this is the Greeks. The fourth is the iron empire, and this is the Romans.

If you notice, as I went through there those kingdoms get cheaper as I went along. You go from gold all the way down to iron by the time you get to the Roman Empire.

Of course, after the Roman Empire collapses, there will be many nations that will try to rule the world, and none will be successful. We have seen that during the past 2,000 years. Various empires have tried to get going, but they could never quite conquer the world.

But there will be a fifth and final world empire made up of remnants of the Roman Empire, which we call 'the West'. Something will come crawling out of the Western civilization that will try to put together this final world empire. It will be a one-world government, which will appear at the end of the world. It will be weaker than the other empires because they are going to try to build their New World Order by mixing and mingling the various ethnic groups around the world. That is what Daniel tells us.

Daniel says that try as they might, they are not going to be able to unite the various nations of the world. It's going to be like trying to mix 'iron and ceramic'; they will not unite. They will not stick together for long.

Of course, this final world order will appear to be strong, but it will be fragile, easily broken, and it will be terribly broken with the coming of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, in judgement. That is in Daniel, Chapter 2.

When we move onto Daniel, Chapter 7, Daniel describes this final world ruler, the anti-Christ. He calls him the 'little horn'. Of course, 'horn' in the Old Testament represents power. In the animal kingdom, the bull or the buck who has the biggest horn usually dominates. But Daniel says that this anti-Christ is going to be a 'little horn'; he is not going to be as powerful as Nebuchadnezzar or Babylon or Cyrus the Persian or Alexander the Great or Julius Caesar the Roman. No, this anti-Christ, as Daniel says, will be a little horn who is going to boast pompous words. He is going to be a big talker, he is going to claim to be bigger than God, he wants to get rid of God, and he is going to be changing God's holidays, God's culture, customs, and laws.

We move onto Daniel, Chapter 8, and we get another look at this anti-Christ. He says, "He will have fierce features." He will look big and bad, and he will be powerful, but Daniel says, "Not by his own power."

In other words, he is not going to be the great warrior king that we saw in Nebuchadnezzar or a Cyrus or an Alexander or a Julius Caesar; he will use schemes. Daniel says that he will be a manipulator, and he will deceive people. Through his cunning, he will cause deceit to prosper under his rule. This anti-Christ will be a diplomat; he will be a politician who will manipulate himself into power.

Daniel, Chapter 11, says that this anti-Christ will not conquer the world like the great warrior kings of the past did. Daniel 11:38 says that he will conquer the world with deception and through the philosophy of a god his ancestors did not know; the god of money. He will conquer the world with gold and silver and precious things.

Now back to 2 Thessalonians, Chapter 2: This final world ruler, this anti-Christ, will not conquer the world by the sword with armies fighting from continent to continent like the kings of the old days; he will take over the world by deception, he will deceive people, he will use lying signs and wonders, he will use propaganda and pompous words, he will deceive people and he will use money to manipulate and control people.

Then in 2 Thessalonians, Chapter 7, as I referred to a few moments ago, this mystery of inequity and this mystery of lawlessness, Paul said was already at work. Even in Paul's time in the New Testament era, through the last 2,000 years up until our present time, as Jesus said, there have been wars and rumors of wars and the stage is being set for this final one-world order. According to Revelation 13, when this world government is prepared to be put in place, Satan himself will be enthroning and empowering this person known as the anti-Christ.

So, yes, this mystery of inequity is already at work. As Jesus said in Matthew 24:8, the anti-Christian forces will be like birth pangs on an expectant mother. These movements will increase with intensity and frequency as we get closer to the end and as we get closer to the big day.

Daniel, Chapter 12 says that in the last days, transportation and information will increase. Of course, we have witnessed that during our lifetime. Thanks to computers we can process more information than ever in the history of the world. Paul agrees with Daniel in 2 Timothy 3:7: He says, “In the last days men will always be learning, but they will never be able to come to the knowledge of the truth.”

We have watched this mystery of inequity in our time, for at least the last 100 years. Billionaire bankers and businessmen have been trying to sell the world on a one-world government.

After World War I, they tried to establish the League of Nations, and that failed. Then after World War II, they established United Nations and have dumped billions of dollars into it, trying to build their new world order, and we are almost there.

So, do I think that the coronavirus is a sign of the end of the world? I don't think so, but I do think that this COVID-19 is a drill; it is a simulation. It is a dress rehearsal to work out the bugs and get all the nations prepared for this final world government.

For the last three months we've watched our globalist leaders manipulate us with the Marxist revolutionary technique known as the Hegelian dialectic. It's a very complicated philosophical thing, but it can actually be salted down to about three points, and those are: Problem, reaction, solution. The way that you change cultures is using problem, reaction, solution.

These globalists cause a problem – be it terrorism or a pandemic or global warming or whatever they want to come up with – and then they wait for our reaction. Our reaction as people, tends to be the same, “Oh, no! We're all going to die! Somebody do something.”

Then they have the solution – a prepackaged, ready-for-us solution that usually involves more government control of our lives.

Let's look at the timetable a bit. Sometimes we can get blurred with our 24-hour news cycles that go through. Let's look back at the timeline and see the changes that have occurred in the last couple of years that have brought about our current predicament which, for us, began on March 15 when President Trump declared a state of emergency for coronavirus.

Three years ago, November 8, 2016, Donald Trump shocked the world by winning the Presidency of the United States of America. He won this election by promising to make America great again, to put a stop to the globalist agenda, to close our borders, and to quit paying all the bills for United Nations and NATO. He also promised to stop this man-made global climate change hoax, and to stop the one-sided trade deals.

He said, "I want international trade, but it needs to be fair trade, not with America always being on the other end of the hook there."

Once he started all this, immediately the globalist billionaire banking and business class turned on him, the press attacked him, Democrat politicians and never-Trump Republicans began trying to impeach him. That went on for about three years. Then once that failed, the next move was coronavirus.

In the past, it was usually David Rockefeller who was pulling the strings around the world on these globalist movements, but he died in March 2017. We never did think he would, but he died at 101 years old.

Then, of course, there is George Soros. He always gets the blame, and he is 90 years old. Right now, he is not having much to say, but he is heavily invested in pharmaceuticals.

So, it appears that Bill Gates is taking the lead at this billionaire's club move toward a one-world order.

One of the other elder statesmen of this group is Henry Kissinger, who is now 97 years old. Ever since I was a child, Henry Kissinger has been on the radio and on the TV talking about his New World Order.

He wrote an op-ed piece on April 3rd rejoicing about how this coronavirus would lead us to this New World Order. He is so proud of Bill Gates. So apparently, Bill Gates is the anointed one. He is one of the richest globalists today.

He is cofounder of Microsoft who is now working to give away his nearly $100 billion fortune through the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

His pet projects are population control and vaccinations. His father was a board member for the abortion provider, Planned Parenthood, who helped young Bill understand as he grew up the need for global birth control to save the planet.

Vaccinations, strangely by Bill, are considered a subset of population control. Bill has this theory that if less babies died in infancy, then parents will want fewer children. So, he works all of this population control and vaccination through something called the Good Club. You can look it up on the internet. The Good Club is made up of other globalist billionaires like George Soros, Warren Buffet, Oprah Winfrey, the Rockefeller family, the Ted Turner Foundation, etc.

Two years ago, on January 17, 2017, at the World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland, for those of you not aware of what goes on in Davos, they have a January meeting every year where 3,000 of the world's wealthiest people gather to figure out how to rule the world.

Back in 2017, Bill Gates initiated a new working group called CEPI, the Coalition for Epidemic Preparedness Innovations. It's a collaboration of the Gates Foundation, the governments of Norway, India, Japan, and Germany, and two big pharmaceutical companies called Inovio and Moderna. They also included DARPA, which is the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency, also known as the 'mad scientist of the Department of Defense'. It also included the Army-the U.S. Army's Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases (the 'mad scientist' that works out of Fort Detrick, Maryland).

The CEPI began working on the next epidemic in 2017. Also at Davos, Gates began working on a Netflix video called Pandemic. As you all know, I don't watch movies, but maybe I should have watched this one. It was released in November of last year. The plot of the movie was a coronavirus that originated in a wet market in China, leaving millions of people dead.

Wow! What do you think? Is that a coincidence? Is Bill Gates a prophet or is it a plan?

Last fall, October 18, 2019, there was a pandemic exercise called ‘Event 201’ at Johns Hopkins University. The exercise was conducted by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, the World Economic Forum, and Michael Bloomberg’s School of Public Health at Johns Hopkins University. And, yes, that is the same Michael Bloomberg who just tried to run against Donald Trump for President of the United States.

The pandemic simulation predicted that the coronavirus would have the same kill rate as the Spanish Flu of 1918, which caused around 65 million deaths worldwide in an 18-month period. It’s also interesting to note that Dr. George Fu Gao, the Director of the Chinese Center for Disease Control, was involved in the simulation.

At the same time, the very same day, October 18, 2019 and lasting through October 27, 2019, the World Military Games were being held – of all places – in Wuhan, China. There were 10,000 athletes from 110 countries. The United States delegation consisted of about 300 people. Two months later, on January 7th, China reports the coronavirus outbreak in Wuhan. January 21st through the 24th was the 2020 Annual World Economic Forum gathering in Davos – so the rich people were back in Davos in January of this year.

Bill Gates and his CEPI announced a Coronavirus Vaccine Program with partnerships including Inovio and Moderna and the United States National Institute for Allergy and Infectious Diseases, which is led by none other than Dr. Tony Fauci, who is now the Chief Medical Advisor to President Trump who you see on TV on these daily briefings that we are getting. He is an interesting character because he wrote in March in the prestigious New England Journal of Medicine that this coronavirus was going to be nothing, and it was going to be similar to the seasonal flu. But when he went in front of the television cameras, he told the American people, “This coronavirus is ten times worse than the seasonal flu, it may kill 2 million Americans if we do nothing, and it still may kill 200,000 Americans even if we shut down the country and shelter in place. There is no known vaccine, and it is going to take 12 to 18 months to even get a vaccine ready for trials.”

Of course, the question is: Where did Dr. Fauci get all those numbers? Where did he get the model of the 2 million people and the 200,000 people? Well it turns out, that that came out of the University of Washington, the Institute for Health, Metrics, and Evaluation, which is funded by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

Before the thing was over in Switzerland, we had something going on at the United States capitol. On January 24th, the United States House of Representatives began drafting a coronavirus stimulus bill called the Cares Act. Yes, the money that you got recently and deposited into your account, actually started the legislative process on January 24th, which as Americans we didn't even know that there was such a thing as a coronavirus until March, but somebody knew. So, somebody in Congress knew it well enough to know that we were going to need relief, and they started a bill back on January 24th.

By the way, January 24th is also the same time that the Senate was getting an ultra-secret briefing about this, and our new senator, Kelly Loeffler, suddenly started having some changes made to her investment strategy on Wall Street.

January 30th the United Nations World Health Organization officially launched a world-wide public health emergency for what they called a 'novel coronavirus', even though at that time there were only 150 cases in the world. Nevertheless, they knew that it was going to be an emergency.

Incidentally, 'novel' means 'newly discovered'. It means 'never seen before'. It means that COVID-19 didn't just come crawling out of the woods. It, to some extent, makes you wonder where it came from.

January 31st, President Trump ordered a travel ban on anyone travelling from China. Four days later, on February 4th, the Centers for Disease Control decided not to use the World Health Organization's COVID-19 test kits. They didn't think that they were good enough, and we had to come up with our own. So, the CDC made their own test, and they were defective. They had to pull them all off the market.

The CDC came out with some new tests by the end of February, but then there were backlogged, taking one to two weeks for people to find out whether they had it or not.

You may not remember this about my resume, but before the Lord rearranged my life, I was planning on being a doctor. I was a pre-med major at the University of North Georgia and North Georgia College. I majored in biology and minored in chemistry.

So, I went to the CDC website and looked at those test instructions to see what was involved in doing a coronavirus test, and listen to this: 'The CDC website says, "A positive COVID-19 test does not rule out bacterial infections or coinfections with other viruses. Even COVID-19 may not be the definite cause of the disease. Still, report all positive cases to CDC."

In layman terms, what that means is that a patient may actually be sick with the seasonal flu or pneumonia or cancer or COPD or something else, but if you can find one molecule of COVID-19 DNA in a swab of their throat or their nostrils, then you are going to report that to the CDC as a positive case.

One thing that does is it definitely pumps up the numbers to make sure that everything that happens out there in the medical field is a COVID-19 case.

The next day on February 5th, Donald Trump was acquitted on the charges of impeachment. So, all this time we have been watching news about this impeachment, and we knew nothing about COVID-19 virus that was happening in the world.

March 11th, the World Health Organization officially declared the COVID-19 a global pandemic. March 14th, the Associated Press announced volunteers in Seattle were given the COVID-19 vaccine. Wait a minute, that was made by Moderna. Where have we heard that name before? It was approved by Dr. Fauci's National Institute of Health. Wait a minute, that's less than two months. I thought Dr. Fauci earlier said that it would take at least 12-18 months to get a vaccine ready for trials. So, something is going on there.

March 15th, President Trump declares a state of emergency in the United States for COVID-19, and that is when we began the social distancing, staying six feet apart, and no meetings with over ten people.

On March 31st, Bill Gates wrote an op-ed in the Washington Post saying that the United States missed the opportunity to get ahead of the coronavirus, so we need to shut down the US economy for at least 10 weeks, which would take us to the end of June. A week earlier, Bill Gates did a TED Talk interview where he said that once people of the world learned to trust science to solve a pandemic, maybe they would be ready to trust science to solve climate change. It somewhat makes you wonder where we are going with this thing.

So, now we have moved on with our television narrative, and now the narrative is: Whodunit? Where did this COVID-19 originate?

Chinese leaders are saying that the United States military, who attended the World Games in Wuhan, released it as a bio-weapon against China. American leaders are calling it the Wuhan virus and saying that the Chinese released it out of their virology lab in Wuhan in order to affect the world. The truth is probably in there somewhere, but the trouble is that it is classified, and we will not know the truth for 40 years until it is declassified, and at that point, I will not care.

The bottom line is that this novel coronavirus, COVID-19, is a manufactured crisis designed to deceive people to accept a radically different world than you and I are used to living in.

Don't get me wrong; don't go out of here and misquote me. I'm not saying that people don't get sick with coronavirus, and I'm not saying that they don't die with it. The only thing that I am saying is that according to the Center for Disease Control, who stays current with all these diseases, in an average year in the United States, there are 39 million cases of flu, and between 30,000 and 60,000 people die.

I've been living on this planet for 63 years now, and we have never shut down the US economy over that big of a threat and that many deaths, but here we are. For some reason, the powers that be have chosen to shut down America over COVID-19, which we have already said that they are cooking the books on it, but right now, there are only 70,000 cases against 39 million cases every year between flu and COVID-19. Also, today they have it 'jacked up' to 30,000 deaths (these numbers are changing daily). Still, that is considered a low flu year.

Once again, why did we shut down the economy? I believe that we are being deceived and manipulated. The question is: Why are we being deceived, and where are we going with this?

According to the prophet Daniel and the apostle Paul, the mystery of inequity is already at work. We are watching people who have been deceived by Satan because they rejected the Lord Jesus Christ, and they are changing Christian customs, culture, traditions, and laws all across our land to prepare the way for a future anti-Christ. I don't know if he is right around the corner and I don't know when the anti-Christ will appear. Nevertheless, a stage is being set.

We've seen a lot of changes just in the last month. As Rahm Emanuel, the former mayor of Chicago and former White House Chief of Staff under President Obama, used to say, you never want a serious crisis to go to waste. Brothers and sisters, they are not wasting this one.

We have watched our leaders transform this COVID-19 coronavirus from being just another virus into a crisis, to an epidemic, to a public health emergency, and to a global pandemic.

I want you to stop. We get caught up in the day-to-day 24-hour news cycle, but stop and think about all the changes that we have accepted in about a month. We'll start with the first thing that we had to do, and that was to verify the power of the press. We had to make sure that those five corporations that control 90% of what we see and hear in the media still can put everybody in a panic. Of course, we are talking about CNN Tom Warner, ABC Disney, Fox News Corp, CBS Viacom, and NBC Comcast. These networks bring on experts whose job it is to convince us that we need to give up our liberty or we are all going to die.

They bring on globalist experts who explain that, "Global problems require global solutions." I've heard that at least a half-dozen times – sometimes daily. They tell us that the world is too complicated for any nation, even something as great as the United Nations. We can't fix this by ourselves; we need a one-world solution to our problems.

They bring on experts who tell us that we need to quit being ignorant and listen to science and listen to the experts and listen to the technocrats. They alone know how to fix pandemics. They alone know how to fix climate change.

Another one of the great changes that we have seen – which I've never seen in my time – is called 'social distancing'; there has to be six feet between individuals. No gatherings larger than 10 people. Order people off the streets and confined to their homes. This is a trial run at martial law, but it turns out that they never needed martial law because most Americans submitted voluntarily.

Governors have ordered up police, deputized government workers, and deployed National Guard just in case, we the people, get sick and tired of this and rebel. To further add to the rumors of a police-state, the governor in Georgia set up a telephone hotline so that you can call and 'rat out' your neighbors who are not complying with lockdown orders. That sounds more like Russia or China than it does the United States of America.

The next big change is crashing the capitalist economy. Following these social distancing guidelines, we have watched 22 million Americans lose their jobs, we have seen the stock market drop 10,000 points, we've seen our retirement savings vanish and go 'down the drain', we've watched the government take charge of the means of production – which is a classic definition of socialism – and we have the government using executive orders, loans, and grants in order to pick which businesses will win and which businesses will lose.

Another big change that has come out of this is they have made the church irrelevant. Or should I say that they have made it more irrelevant than what we already were?

In times past when America went into a crisis, they would call on the people of God to pray. That is not what we are hearing now. Now we are hearing, "We need doctors. We need scientists. We need people to tell us how to do this. We don't need God, and we don't need churches or prayer."

Churches are listed among nonessential businesses. Pastors are not allowed to visit the sick members and hospitals and nursing homes. The Christian tradition of handshaking with the right hand of fellowship is forbidden. Churches are not allowed to assemble, which is a violation of our 1st Amendment right-freedom of assembly and freedom of religion, not to mention that it is also a violation of Hebrews, Chapter 10, verse 25 which says, "Do not forsake the assembling of ourselves together."

Our sermons and our Sunday school classes are forced online, which means that all of our words are being saved and stored in the National Security Agencies and the Data Center in Utah, which, as long as we have a government that is okay with Christianity, is okay. But what if our new world government is more like China? Then our very own words will be used against us in a criminal trial.

So NSA, if you are listening, there it is.

Now the government is offering free money to churches. Never mind the fact that using taxpayer money to prop up churches who are in debt is a violation of the 1st Amendment of the United States Constitution. As our minister of music Derick often says, "With the shekels come the shackles." Whoever takes government money will ultimately take government regulations, and I don't think that we want to do that at Northlake, at least not on my watch.

Another change is we are now a cashless society. This is one of the globalist's dreams, and has been for years – to get rid of cash and use digital currency to be able to monitor and control the flow of money around the world. Korea, which was one of the first nations outside of China to be infected with this disease, pulled in all of their cash to sanitize it because the World Health Organization said that cash was just crawling with coronavirus. They required all their people to buy their things with credit cards and their iPhones.

In the United States, Speaker Pelosi's first coronavirus relief house bill called for using digital dollars in order to give people their money that went out last week. Of course, you remember the Democrat house bill didn't pass, but the Republicans modified it and they did pass a bill that didn't have digital dollars in it. But we are already seeing them pushing it through the IRS. There were all kinds of problems. We had money going to the wrong people and the wrong banks. I think that there was a fireman in Hall County who got a $7 million check. It was strange. I guess it was proving that it is not going to work that way.

So, now we have a Senate subcommittee on banking that is working on the details of how to give any future money to Americans in digital money instead of cash.

Speaking of the government giving out money, one of the goals of this New World Order is universal basic income where you get paid to do nothing. You don't have to work for money, and the government decides what you need. I guess giving $1,200 to every adult and $500 to every child was a good test run.

There was an interesting article in Bloomberg news on April 5th. Spain is using the coronavirus crisis to roll out its universal basic income system. Apparently, some of our nations know what is up with this.

As Trump was signing in the $2 trillion relief bill, he said that the final cost of all these programs will probably be $6 trillion. Brothers and sisters, this may sound good for us to be getting all this free money, but the thing that you have to remember is that there is no such thing as a free lunch. It will come to you at some point. I believe that by the time we get to the November elections, our national debt will be over $30 trillion. Just the interest on that debt will take up 15% of our Federal budget. Think about that; fifteen percent of your tax dollars will be going to empower international bankers who are holding our debt.

I could go on, but look at the hour. So, let me conclude with another little noticed change. This one happened around Christmas. On December 23, 2019 the prestigious Scientific American Magazine reported that the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and MIT-the Massachusetts Institute of Technology- had developed a biometric tattoo where a nano-chip can be injected into your forearm at the same time that you are being vaccinated. Therefore, your arm can be scanned to reveal your identity, your vaccinations, and maybe even your medical records.

The biometric tattoo program is part of a bigger plan called ID2020 that was also announced this January at the World Economic Forum in Davos. Again, this was sponsored by the Bill Gates Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, and several other billionaire organizations.

These compassionate billionaires advertise this as being a special tool to help poor children in undeveloped countries so when there is a crisis – a war or famine or similar – and they flee to another country without carrying papers or identification and cannot verify if they have their shots etc. So, all they have to do is scan their little forearm, and they will know whether they’ve had their shots or not.

It sounds very compassionate, but then you read further into the article, and they also mention that these tattoos would be a great screening tool for people at airports, border crossings, schools, healthcare facilities, government buildings, and sports facilities. Brothers and sisters, 2 Thessalonians 2:7’s ‘mystery of inequity’ is already at work.

For those of you who are still watching television and haven’t turned it off yet, after one of my conspiracy theory prophecy sermons that I do from time to time, I am often asked, “Brother Daniel, what can we do about it? You preach the sermon and scare us all to death. What can we do about it? Are there some politicians that we can call to stop this thing?”

My answer to that is, “I don’t think so. I think that this ‘train left the station’ a long time ago.” The real question is not: What can we do? The real question is going to be: What will you do?

If this coronavirus makes its second or third wave around the world like the experts are predicting and the Bill Gates vaccine is magically ready, and they offer you the vaccine, but in order to get the vaccine you also have to receive the biometric tattoo, will you take it? If not, you probably won't be able to go to work or to school or the grocery store or the bank. In the grand scheme of things, it will probably not be a non-Christian thing if you accept that vaccine tattoo; you will probably be okay.

But later on, if we carry out this philosophy to Revelation, Chapter 13 when it's not only about a vaccine, but when you are required to swear allegiance and be willing to worship the exalted leader of the United Nations – or whatever the name is called at that point – to prove your loyalty to the UN, and you must take this biometric tattoo: “If you don't take this biometric tattoo, then you won't be able to buy or sell or travel or get healthcare,” then what then?

You're probably saying, “Daniel, I think that this is a little extreme. I don't think that this can happen.”

Sure, it can happen. It has happened before, even in some non-tech times. In ancient Rome under the Roman Caesar Domitian, who happened to be in charge when John wrote the Book of Revelation, he forced people to offer a sacrifice once a year of incense. It was only a little pinch – not much incense. All you had to do was pitch it into the fire and say, “Caesar is lord.” That's it, and you're a good Roman citizen, and life goes merrily along.

But that was a problem for some folks called ‘Christians’. They refused to take the pinch of incense and pitch it in the fire, and they refused to say, “Caesar is lord.” Instead they said, “Jesus is Lord,” and they and their families were thrown to the lions or given some other horrible punishment. We will talk about that more next time when we talk about Sardis, the persecuted church.

Is this coronavirus a sign of the end of the world? I don't know. But I do know that we are 2,000 years closer to the end than when Paul wrote to us about it in 2 Thessalonians, Chapter 2.

My prayer for me and my prayer for you is Ephesians 6:13: Lord, help my Northlake family to, “Take up the whole armor of God, that we may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand”-to stand up for Jesus until he comes.

As we close, let me ask you: Are you saved? Do you know Jesus Christ, your personal savior and Lord? Is he Lord of your life?

The next question is: Are you alert? Are you paying attention?

One of the things that Jesus told us before he went to the cross was to watch because all these things are going to happen in an hour when you do not suspect it. “Behold, I come as a thief”.

Are you putting on the whole armor of God? Are you in the word daily? Are you praying for strength? Are you preparing yourself and your family for some difficult days ahead? Because, as the apostle Paul warned us, the mystery of iniquity is already at work.

I encourage you to trust Jesus Christ as your Lord and savior. If you’ve never prayed to receive Christ, if you’ve never repented your sins and asked him to come into your heart and save you, why don’t you do that today? If you’ve been saved but never joined the church and taken that first step of obedience of being baptized, why don’t you make that commitment today? Maybe you want to join our church and find your place of service. You can make that commitment today.

Maybe you have some need in your life and you just want somebody to listen to you and pray with you about what is going on in your life. Why don’t you do that today? You can do that by calling our church office number, 770-536-7338. I or one of the staff members will be standing by to answer your call and talk with you. Just simply call that number.

Let’s go to the Lord in prayer: Our Lord, we are overwhelmed by our circumstances these days. We are also overwhelmed by the truth of your word, that you knew our situation long before we ever knew who we were.

Help us, Lord, not just to be hearers of the word, but doers and to act on it and to stand on it. Lord, help us to be strong, even as the mystery of iniquity is already at work around us. Help us to be strong and faithful to you.

We do pray, Lord, that if there is someone out there hearing the sound of my voice who has never trusted Jesus Christ as their savior, that today would be the day that they put their trust in you. For all of us, Lord, I believe it’s later than we think. We pray this prayer in Jesus’ name. Amen.
